

Federal programs across the NIH and CDC are essential to Kentucky's fight against diabetes. Cuts threaten the research, prevention, and infrastructure supporting the 519,100 adults in Kentucky living with diabetes.<sup>1</sup>

NIDDK | National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive & Kidney Diseases

Current Funding: $3.6M

- The NIDDK currently funds 9 projects across Kentucky, with $1.8M committed to diabetes-related research in 2024 alone.<sup>1,2</sup>
- The NIDDK supports 10 active clinical trials in the state.<sup>3</sup>
- Cuts would threaten this nationwide research engine that advances care and improves health outcomes for over 500,000 Kentuckians.

$3.6M Supporting
9 Projects

10
Clinical Trials

$1.8M
in Diabetes Research

DNPAO | CDC Division of Nutrition, Physical Activity, and Obesity

FY 2024 Funding: $888,000

- Cuts would disrupt $888,000 provided to reduce the risk of chronic conditions through nutrition access, physical activity infrastructure, and obesity prevention:
  - $888,000 to the Kentucky Cabinet for Health and Family Services for the State Physical Activity and Nutrition Program.<sup>4</sup>

Expanding Nutrition Access

through produce prescription programs and food pantry nutrition guidelines.

Promoting Early Health

with farm-to-child care programs, provider education, and breastfeeding support.

Encouraging Active Lifestyles

by improving public transportation options and access.<sup>5</sup>

National DPP | CDC National Diabetes Prevention Program

- National DPP supports diabetes prevention programs for over 21,000 enrollees offered by 32 organizations across 19 cities.<sup>6,7</sup>
- Cuts would disrupt access to evidence-based lifestyle intervention shown to reduce the risk of type 2 diabetes by 58% in adults and 71% among seniors.<sup>8</sup>

21,148 Kentuckians across
19 Cities

DDT | CDC Division of Diabetes Translation

Current Funding: $1M

- Cutting DDT would threaten $1M that supports the Kentucky Department for Public Health in tracking, preventing, and managing diabetes.<sup>6</sup>

31 Diabetes Self-Management Education and Support (DSMES) service providers.

10,253 Kentuckians with diabetes that have used DDT DSMES.
